SUARA SERANGGA PAPUA

Suara Serangga Papua (SUGAPA), Voice of Papuan Insects, is a non-profit journal published in four parts annually by the Kelompok Entomologi Papua (KEP) and is devoted to the entomology of Papua, the western part of New Guinea, including its surrounding islands. Articles are accepted from amateur and professional entomologists and must be in English (to which an Indonesian translation of the English abstract will be added) or (to a maximum of 25% of the journal) in Indonesian, with a comprehensive English abstract. Although the editors will consult renowned specialists of relevant insect groups, the authors are fully responsible for the content of their publications.
